A One Day National Level Seminar on a theme "Role of Public Libraries in Promoting Information Literacy Skills" was held at Shri Sangameshwar Shikshan Samstha's, Shri Sangameshwar Arts and Commerce College, Chadchan, Bijapur District (Karnataka) with financial assistance from the National Assessment and Accreditation Council (NAAC) Bengaluru on Saturday, the 15th February, 2020.

The objective of the Seminar was to create an awareness about the importance of public libraries among the students, staff, teachers and other stake holders of the Public Libraries in the society. The seminar also intended to discuss various challenges faced by the staff working in Public Libraries by way of paper presentations, deliberations and discussions.

Inaugural Session:

The seminar started with a beautiful invocation song presented by the students of the college. Following this, Mr. Mahantesh Biradar, the Librarian and the Organising Secretary, provided a brief introduction about the seminar. Dr. S. B. Rathod, the Convener of the Seminar & Co-ordinator of IQAC, welcomed all guests, invitees, resource persons and delegates for the seminar while Prof. S. S. Desai introduced the Chief Guest and the Keynote Speaker of the event.

The Chief Guest and other dignitaries present on the dais officially inaugurated the seminar by lighting the traditional lamp.

The Chief Guest of the Seminar, Prof. B. D. Kumbar, Professor and Chairperson, Department of Library and Information Science, Karnatak University, Dharwad and the President of Indian Library Association (ILA), spoke extensively on the role and importance of public libraries in promoting information literacy skills of the people in the community.

He said that the governments have been spending a large amount of money on various social welfare schemes such as constructing toilets in every house of the village but unfortunately the people living there have not been explained about the importance of using such facilities effectively. He was of the opinion that if the governments spend a little amount regularly on building and maintaining Public Libraries in every village, the people will automatically become aware of all welfare schemes and their importance. Further, he said, they will take all necessary steps to improve their lives on their own without any kind of intervention by the government. He termed the Public Library System in Karnataka as one of the best systems in the entire nation with about 8000 Public Libraries functioning at various levels from the Sate Central Library to the Gram Panchayat Libraries.

The other guest, Mr. V. G. Muttin, Hon. Secretary, Shri Sangameshwar Shikshan Samstha, spoke on the effective role the public libraries play in the society. He stressed the point that the people should take the advantage of public library services which are truly democratic in nature.

The Keynote Speaker of the seminar, Dr. B.T. Sampatkumar, Professor and Chairperson, Department of Library and Information Science, Tumkur University, Tumakuru, explained the importance of Public Libraries in the society and how they can play a pivotal role in promoting Information Literacy Skills. He also shared and discussed the findings of an important study conducted by him on the "Expectations of the People from Public Libraries". This greatly helped the delegates, especially the librarians present in the seminar, in understanding the needs and requirements of the users of public libraries so that they can plan their services accordingly.

In his presidential remarks Mr. S. S. Choragi, the Principal of Shri Sangameshwar Arts and Commerce College, praised the public library services in rural areas and how they are fractioning as people's universities by providing access to all kinds of knowledge. He also stressed that the governments and local bodies should take appropriate steps to further strengthen these only democratic institutions in the community.

The Inaugural session concluded with vote of thanks.

SEMINAR CONCLUSIONS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

The following recommendations were made by the participants after a detailed deliberation on the seminar theme " Role of Public Libraries in Promoting Information Literacy Skills".

1. The State Governments should provide proper funding to the Public Libraries as per the provisions made in their Public Library Acts/ Legislations. As of now, the governments in several states are not releasing the grants that they have collected for the development of public libraries in the form of taxes.

2. The Public Libraries being the important community information centers, in collaboration with the local educational institutions, should arrange programmes to create awareness about reading habits among the school children and youth studying in colleges.

3. The Public Libraries being the important community information centers, should facilitate access to new-age technologies such as the INTERNET to attract more number of youth towards them.

4. The Public Libraries being the important community information centers, should provide information on scholarships, fellowships, jobs and employment to the rural youth.

5. Public Libraries should co-ordinate with local self-governing bodies such as "Gram Panchayats" to ensure proper maintenance of library buildings.

6. The State Governments should provide proper salary and other employment benefits to the staff working in the public libraries so that they can happily work for the welfare of the people in the society.

7. The Public Libraries, in association with the Department of Agriculture or the Universities of Agricultural Sciences, should arrange awareness programmes for the benefit of local farmers.

8. Public Libraries should arrange health awareness programmes in association with local health centres for the welfare of people in society.

9. Public Libraries should encourage the people in the society to have common programmes and cultural celebration at the premises of public libraries and should cease such opportunities to promote information literacy skills.
